

VETS' HOSPITAL AT ATLANTA GETS $600,000

Deficiency Bill, Signed by Coolidge, Provides for Large Allotment for Local Institution.

HINES, DIRECTOR, FAVORS PROJECT

City Is Eighth on List of 20 and Will Receive Early Consideration by Governing Board.

BY SAM W. SMALL, Special Staff Correspondent.

Washington, May 24.—(Special.)—President Coolidge has approved the second deficiency bill which carries in it an appropriation of $15,000,000 for additional hospital facilities for United States war veterans.

Included in the bill is $600,000 for a new hospital at Atlanta to replace Base Hospital No. 48, on Peachtree road, converting it from an 85-bed capacity to 200 beds.

General Hines, director of the Veterans bureau, says the appropriation is immediately available and with it the Atlanta hospital will be made into one of the best equipped, even though not the latest of the general veterans' hospital of the continent.

The hospital at present is wholly inadequate to demands upon it. The new hospital may serve for some years ahead, but more additions will be necessary as the veterans grow older and in more pressing need of government hospitalization.

The hospital board which has charge of the expenditure of the funds will meet in the next week or ten days and take action upon the several projects covered by this new appropriation. Atlanta stands eighth in the list of 20 and therefore should receive early consideration.

No appropriation is made for hospitalization at Augusta, or elsewhere in the south other than Oteen, N. C.; Little Rock, Tuskegee, and Alexandria, La.

MOVEMENT STARTED BY ATLANTA POST.

The movement for a larger veterans' hospital here was started by Atlanta Post No. 1 of the American Legion in resolutions which were adopted more than a year ago, and has been carried forward by the legion with the assistance of other veterans' organizations, Asa W. Chandler, commander of the department of Georgia of the legion said Thursday night.

"We are greatly indebted to the industrial bureau of the change of the funds and Major J. G. C. Bloodworth, Jr., of the state service bureau, for their work in the campaign for a larger hospital," Mr. Chandler said. "The original proposal was for a 400-bed hospital, and we plan to continue our fight to this end."

"Congressman Leslie Steele, of this district, was especially active in the movement, while valuable assistance was given us by Senators William J. Harris and Walter F. George, together."

GERMAN CABINET TO PROBE ESCAPE OF DEADLY GAS

Berlin, May 24.—(AP)—The recent tragedy at Hamburg through the bursting of a tank of phosgene gas was discussed by the cabinet today. The minister of economics reported on the investigations of the Hamburg authorities and announced that he had sent one of the experts of his department to that city to make further inquiries.

The cabinet reached the conclusion that Hugo Stenzenberger, at whose plant the gas was stored, did not hold the gas for military purposes or in behalf of any military authorities.

It has been explained that no restrictions were imposed on Germany in traffic in phosgene for commercial purposes and this was all it was intended to be used for.

SENATORS OVERRIDE 4 COOLIDGE VETOES IN HEATED SESSION

FAIL TO MUSTER 2 TO 1 MAJORITY ON FIFTH MEASURE

Upper House Passes Two Pay Increases for Postal Service, Tyson Bill and Roads Measure.

BANDMASTER BILL SURVIVES ATTACK

Upper House Continues Assault Begun by Representatives as Vote Shows Determination.

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—Establishing what leaders believe to be a precedent, the senate today overrode four presidential vetoes in rapid succession and the house then promptly duplicated that action on one of them.

In addition the senate made within seven votes of defeating the chief executive on still a fifth measure.

The one bill that was repassed by both chambers over Mr. Coolidge's objection was the Tyson-Fitzgerald bill to provide retirement pay for disabled emergency army officers. It was passed by the house, 245 to 101, within two hours after the senate had acted similarly, 66 to 14.

The other pieces of legislation were the Oddie roads measure affecting 11 western states; the Spruill bill increasing pay for night workers in the postal service and the Griest bill granting allowances for rent, fuel, light and equipment to fourth class postmasters.

Five Postal Bills Are Laws.

The two postal bills previously had been repassed by the house over the veto and now are law. In the house Speaker Longworth said the Oddie bill would be called up for another vote the first thing tomorrow.

The measure on which the president went to victory was the Bingham bill to create the rank of bandmaster of the army. It was not until this measure was reached that a voice was raised in defense of the president and that was on the democratic side of the chamber.

Senator Bruce, Maryland, said that while he believed Coolidge had overstepped the bounds in some of his vetoes, he thought the senate would be doing likewise in overriding the chief executive on the bandmaster measure. Seven other democrats agreed with him in the vote.

Onslaught Begins Early.

The onslaught on the president began as soon as the senate met at 11 a. m., with the consideration of the Citta Di Milano during much of her flight although there was a hiatus between 7:30 o'clock this morning and noon. At 7:30 the Citta Di Milano gave the Italian liner position and then received no further word from the dirigible until noon when her position at the half way mark was reported from the airship.

Then the Griest measure was made a law with a vote of 63 to 17, or nine more than the required number. Three democrats, Fletcher, Florida; King, Utah, and Overman, North Carolina, broke ranks on this vote after the minority had stood together on the first ballot.

The veto measure on the Oddie bill provoked considerable discussion but was attended by no direct attacks upon the president, its proponents confining their talk to an explanation of the benefits of the measure, which would make available $10,500,000 over the next three years for the construction of post roads through federal public lands in 11 states of the west.

With five democrats standing with the president, the measure was passed.

PENNSYLVANIANS IN CONGRESS GIVE PLEDGE TO HOOVER

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—Twenty of the 83 republican members of the Pennsylvania congressional delegation joined 114 republican representatives from other states at a private dinner here tonight in pledging their support to Herbert Hoover for the presidential nomination.

NOBILE BEATS WAY BACK FROM POLE

Italian Explorer Is Hampered by Fog and Sleet on Return; Drops Flags on Pole.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, May 24.—(AP)—The dirigible Italia informed the Citta di Milano at 10 o'clock tonight that it was meeting a strong head wind and a dense fog on its way back from the north pole to Spitzbergen and probably would not reach King's Bay until tomorrow forenoon.

(Copyright, 1928, by The Associated Press.)

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, May 24.—(AP)—Coated with much ice and fighting a strong southwest wind, the dirigible Italia today was slowly making her way back to her base at Kings Bay after a brilliant flight to the north pole.

General Umberto Nobile, successful in his second dirigible flight to the top of the world, sent three historic messages from the pole, one to Pope Pius, telling the pontiff that he had dropped the oaken cross entrusted to him on the north pole from the Italia and the others to King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Mussolini. While over the pole the flags of Italy and Milan and various other souvenirs were dropped.

Cross Carries Message.

The cross, about six feet high with a metal base, had a repository in which was placed a message written in Latin by Pope Pius.

For two hours the dirigible cruised over the pole, reaching the spot at 20 minutes after midnight, 19 hours and 40 minutes after leaving Kings Bay. At 2:30 a. m. the return flight was begun, the dirigible following the twenty-fourth meridian to the halfway point about 350 miles from the pole and then turning for Kings Bay.

At noon today the Italia wireless her base ship the Citta Di Milano that she was half way home and that she probably would reach Kings Bay some time after midnight.

No One Landed.

General Nobile had planned to land several men at the pole to make observations but the messages received at Kings Bay indicated that this part of the plan had not been carried out.

The dirigible kept in touch with the Citta Di Milano during much of her flight although there was a hiatus between 7:30 o'clock this morning and noon. At 7:30 the Citta Di Milano gave the Italian liner position and then received no further word from the dirigible until noon when her position at the half way mark was reported from the airship.

Three bombs are shown to have been planted in the lavatory, one of them exploded, the last of the deputies having left just before it took place.

Two youths, seen loitering about the room, are believed to be the actual perpetrators.

A hand grenade exploded in military barracks back of the national palace at noon today and gave rise to rumors that another bombing had taken place. The explosion occurred when a soldier, cleaning his rifle, accidentally struck it with the butt of the gun. Both his legs were broken.

Blaze Reveals Safe Robbery; $350 Stolen

Rhodes Building Is Scene of Fire Which Draws Big Audience of Motorists.

Discovery of a looted safe in the stockroom of the Stratlin, Harrington and Thomas insurance company in the Rhodes building, at Forsyth and Marietta streets, is believed by police to account for a blaze late Thursday night which caused slight damage to the offices. Officers are working on the theory that the fire was started to cover the robbery or was the result of the accidental dropping of a match by the robber.

The blaze was discovered about 10 o'clock by L. W. Brooks, watchman for the building. He immediately turned in an alarm and five fire companies had the flames well under control in about 30 minutes. The streets were crowded with motorists who had stopped to watch the work of the firemen.

Records of the company were lost, according to officials of the company, but they can be replaced. The fire did little damage, but the office was filled with water and smoke.

At the time the firemen left the scene it had not been learned that the safe had been robbed, but police have begun an investigation. Between $250 and $400 is missing. Doors of the safe were left wide open.

AUSTRIANS ATTACK ITALIAN EMBASSY AND INSULT FLAG

Demonstration Follows Bombing of Consulate in Argentina and Blast in Mexican Senate.

Innsbruck, Austria, May 24.—(United News.)—The Austrian populace swept through the streets of this city in rowdy mobs tonight demonstrating against Italians. Police arrested scores of demonstrators and finally cleared the streets.

The demonstrations followed a clash between students and personnel of the Italian consulate. Students sang nationalist songs and jeered Italy when the consulate raised the Italian tricolor in honor of the anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war—on the side of the allies although she had belonged to the German-Austrian-Italian entente before the war.

Students tore down the Italian flag but Austrian soldiers replaced it.

Four or five hundred students tonight assembled in the suburb of Saggau to attempt to march to Schiller square where the Italian consul lives. The demonstrators followed a clash between students and personnel of the Italian consulate. Students sang nationalist songs and jeered Italy when the consulate raised the Italian tricolor in honor of the anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war—on the side of the allies although she had belonged to the German-Austrian-Italian entente before the war.

Police dispersed them with batons, and again used clubs on demonstrators in Maria Theresa street, where 14 were arrested. Late tonight the students sought to attack an Italian inn and the barracks of Italian railway men. Police again frustrated the attempts, injuring many demonstrators with their batons.

The provincial government issued a communique condemning the attack on the flag.

200 UNDER ARREST FOR ARGENTINE BLAST

Buenos Aires, May 24.—(United News.)—More than 200 arrests had been made tonight in connection with Wednesday's bomb explosion in the Italian consulate which cost seven lives.

Many of those under arrest are alleged to be Italian anarchists. All of those arrested were taken to the outcage.

The Italian consul expressed the opinion the perpetrators were anarchists. He said many passports and other valuable documents probably had been destroyed by the explosion.

An unexploded bomb found in the lavatory of the consulate. It contained 50 dynamite cartridges of 50 grams each, and also nails, pieces of iron and screws.

It is believed it was a similar bomb which wrecked the consulate.

DEPUTIES ESCAPE BOMB IN MEXICO

Mexico City, May 24.—(AP)—The theory that the bomb planted last night in the lavatory of the chamber of deputies was placed there by enemies of General Obregon gained credence here today.

Most of the members of the chamber of deputies are supporters of the former president, it is argued, and the perpetrators of the outrage probably tried the explosion as nearly as possible to take place when many of them would have crowded into the lavatory after the late session of congress.

No change is made in the intention of the senate to hold a session at this time will be from Church street to the end of the double track lines of the company, with a view of attempting to work out a feasible solution of arrangement of the company's tracks without removing them and placing them in the center of the roadway.

SENATORS DOZE AS FILIBUSTER GRIPS SHOALS MEASURE

Washington, May 25.—(Friday)—(AP)—The senate still was in session at an early hour today, held in a torrent of words that flowed endlessly from opponents of the newly revised conference report on the Norris resolution for government operation of Muscle Shoals.

At 1 o'clock Senator Tydings, democrat, Maryland, was pacing the floor in argument against the proposal. He had been on his feet for two and a half hours and shortly before had notified his nodding colleagues that they might as well take a nap because he was "good for three or four hours more."

He was the sixth senator to conduct a filibuster against the report since it came before the chamber yesterday. The tirade began with Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, serving notice that he would fight the Norris plan so long as his physical endurance lasted until the compromise report was revised to eliminate authorization for a power dam at Cove Creek, Tenn.

Gift taxes, admissions over $5	50,000
Total increases	$2,250,000

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—A compromise tax reduction bill providing a total annual saving of $222,450,000 to federal taxpayers, principally to corporations, was agreed to late today by conferees of the senate and house.

The measure, which will be put to an early vote in the house and then in the senate, is well over the $200,000,000 limitation set by President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon but by the house that it is believed executive approval will be given it.

Record Is Set.

The senate voted a $205,000,000 tax slash and so far as actual totals go its decision for a lower reduction prevailed in the compromise drafted after two strenuous days of conferences between spokesmen of the senate and house. This is almost record time for completion of a conference on a bill of this magnitude.

No change is made in the intention of the senate to hold a session at this time will be from Church street to the end of the double track lines of the company, with a view of attempting to work out a feasible solution of arrangement of the company's tracks without removing them and placing them in the center of the roadway.

Walter B. Stewart, chairman of Fulton county commissioners; C. D. Knight, president of the Atlanta Improvement association; members of city council through whose wards the improvement would be made, and representatives of chambers of commerce and other civic organizations in East Point and College Park, attended the session.

Recommendation that a 20-foot building line be established along the affected area at once in order to obviate the necessity of renovation of additional buildings when the widening project is begun was made. Suggestion also was made that the building line be established on Church street in East Point.

Letters from Senator Walter F. George predicting that the war department will permit use of a right of way for widening the street through the Fort McPherson property, were read by Mrs. Chester Johnson, secretary of the committee.

40 BIG DRUG STORES IN ATLANTA FIGURE IN SOUTHERN MERGER

MAN AND WOMAN ARE TALKED HERE IN DRUG SEIZURE

Defendants Are Held in $20,000 Bond Each. Narcotics Confiscated Here Valued at $4,200.

Forty-two ounces and 60 grains of morphine, said to be the largest single confiscation ever made by the local narcotic office, were seized Thursday afternoon by federal officers following the arrest of Thomas (alias Tolly) Greenberg and Florence Greenberg. On their appearance before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith, the defendants were committed to jail in default of $20,000 bond each, pending hearings this morning.

Both Greenberg and the woman were wanted in Washington, D. C., on fugitive warrants growing out of narcotic indictments, local narcotic agents said. Seizure of the narcotics followed arrests on the fugitive warrants, according to government agents.

The morphine was found in a suit case which had been checked at the Terminal station, the check for the grip being found in the apartment of the Greenbergs on North Boulevard, agents said. Although the defendants refused to give their local address following the arrests at West Peachtree and Baker streets, the agents traced the apartment through negotiations of Greenberg for the purchase of an automobile, they said.

The price of the drug varies a great deal according to the demand for the supply, and the value of the narcotics seized Thursday is around $4,200, on a basis of $100 an ounce, in Atlanta where the cost in New York was estimated at around $12 an ounce, federal agents said. The suitcases contained enough morphine for 73,500 normal "shots" of a quarter-grain each. The next largest confiscation locally was 42 ounces in August of 1927, the present seizure breaking the record by 60 grains.

The temporary bonds were fixed at $10,000 each on the local charges, and similar amounts on the Washington charges.

William Schley Howard and Len B. Guillevain have been engaged to represent the two prisoners.

LEE ST. WIDENING MOVEMENT URGED

Engineers of Power Company, State and County Will Make Complete Study of Plans.

Engineers of the Georgia Power company, the state and county will make a complete study of proposed widening of Lee street to the Campbell county line, seeking to establish a 55-foot roadway, instead of the present 30-foot strip, throughout practically the entire distance, according to a decision Thursday of a committee representing civic clubs and chambers of commerce.

Hall Davis, temporary chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting, which was held in the city council chamber. Frank Butler, vice president and general operating manager of the power company, and C. A. Smith, superintendent of roadways of the firm, took part in the discussion, explaining that the company wished to be of any assistance possible in the project. Hugh Couch, chairman of the committee, made it impossible for Senator Smoot to get immediate action there.

House conferees were reported to be firmly against the publicity section and against even any compromise on it. Word came out from the conferees that the senate would not take action on the publicity amendment there would be no tax reduction bill at this session.

Four years ago the publicity provision was included in the bill.

QUIGG IS OUSTED AS MIAMI POLICE CHIEF AFTER TRIAL

Miami, Fla., May 24.—(AP)—H. Leslie Quigg, Miami police chief, today was dismissed "for the good of the service."

He had been under suspension since March 23, when he was indicted for murder in the death of a negro prisoner. A jury acquitted him in the murder case but new charges were filed by City Manager W. A. Snow.

WITNESSES TELL OF SALARY BUYING

C. E. Jarvis, Jr., Defendant in Test Case Charging Usurious Practice in Money Lending.

Various members of the city's clerical army, many of whom were heads of households in financial straits, Thursday testified in the city criminal court as state witnesses in a test case aimed at the general practice of salary assignment.

After more than a score of stories had taken the stand, relating stories of need that drove them to seek small sums despite heavy penalties, Judge Jessie M. Wood adjourned court until this morning.

There was a curious sameness about the statements. Over and over was repeated the need of quick money, as the result of some family illness or financial emergency, the quest for it at a salary buyers and the heavy monthly payments that followed, with the principal always a little beyond reach.

Case To Be Test.

While the specific accusation was made out against E. C. Jarvis, owner of the Salary Investment company, it was understood that numerous similar actions will hinge on the case.

An imposing array of counsel—defending Jarvis, and the case was bitterly fought, step by step, with frequent sharp tilts between defense and prosecuting attorneys.

The state sought to show that "salary buying" is, in effect, the lending of small amounts at exorbitant interest rates; that this is a legal device by which the agents seek to evade laws regulating loans and protecting the borrower.

"For two and a half years," Lewis Webb, a state witness, told the court, I paid Jarvis $2.50 a month on a $25 loan made in 1920. In 1927 he sued me for the principal and I was forced to pay it.

While form contract setting out the assignment of salary are required by the agents, many citizens testified their attention never was called to this feature of the contract, and that they signed up believing themselves indulging in a note.

"Commission" Charged.

After 30-day intervals the contracts call for payment of the entire sum. These can be renewed on payment of a "commission" ranging as high as 10 per cent a month. The state contended this is only technically different from outright payment of interest.

Conviction of misdemeanor on two counts was asked for Jarvis under Georgia civil laws making it illegal to charge interest of more than 5 per cent a month, and under the "small loan law" which makes it a misdemeanor to lend money in sums less than $300 at interest rates in excess of 3 1/2 per cent a month. This feature alone makes it impossible for the state to be duly licensed by state authorities.

The defense was represented by Attorneys Ben J. Conyers, Paul S. Etheridge, R. B. Jackson and C. E. Moore. State's attorneys were Solicitor Carlton W. Binnis, Mark Holding, J. L. R. Boyd and H. J. Reynolds.

MAN TELEPHONES POLICE TO COME AND ARREST HIM

A ride in a police patrol and a night in a station cell is not considered in the light of a pleasant experience by the most of people. But G. W. Odom, 22, of 608 Capitol avenue, seems to have other ideas on the subject and Thursday night he phoned to the police to come and get him.

"I'm out at the corner of Capitol and Georgia avenues, intoxicated and want you to send out a man and get me," was the general import of what he said over the phone and the police obliged.

Call Officers E. E. Brackett and M. D. Cartwright found him just where he said he would be located. When he arrived at the station house he said he had told his wife that he was going to get arrested, that she did not seem to believe him, and that he had decided to make good.

After several hours, Mrs. Odom, who had not believed him, arrived on the scene with a bottle of milk, and six dollars. She made her husband drink the milk first and then deposited the six dollars. The reunited couple left the station house together.

$1,500,000 PRICE PLACED ON LOCAL UNITS OF GROUP

New York Banking Syndicate To Form New Chain of 100 Stores in Three Southern States.

RICHMOND D. LANE WILL TAKE CHARGE

Sixty Stores in Knoxville and Jacksonville Will Be Included In $3,000,000 Deal.

At an aggregate cost of approximately $1,500,000 more than 40 well known Atlanta drug stores will be purchased by a New York banking syndicate for the establishment of a new chain of drug stores in the south, which will include also 60 stores located in Knoxville, Tenn., and Jacksonville, Fla. It was announced Thursday by Frank Adair and Forrest Adair, Jr., who handled the local end of the deal.

The purchasing group will be represented by Richmond D. Lane, of New York, who will head the new chain of stores and who will establish headquarters for the new interests in Atlanta. These stores now are transacting an aggregate gross business amounting to more than $6,000,000 and the amount to be paid for the 100 stores in the three cities will run close to $3,000,000, it was announced.

No names of local drug stores involved in the deal were announced. The stores purchased by the new company are some of the most prominent in Atlanta and many of the present owners will become executives in the new company. Forrest Adair, Jr., who made public the consummation of the deal, said the names of the stores involved would be announced in about three weeks.

No Confirmation Forthcoming.

Local druggists who own prominent stores would not deny or affirm the report. According to the announcement made by Mr. Adair the local stores will be operated by the new company but few changes in personnel will be made.

"Many of the owners of the stores involved in Atlanta and in Jacksonville and Knoxville as well will remain with the new operating company in executive capacities," he said. "The deal means that more than $1,500,000 will be paid for the stores in Atlanta and approximately the same amount paid out for the stores in other cities. These stores are 2 hours, in annual business of approximately $6,000,000. Mr. Lane, who will head the company, has spent much time in Atlanta recently as well as in Knoxville and Jacksonville."

Authority to announce the closing of the deal, was telegraphed to Mr. Lane.

AIR MAIL BRINGS PASSPORT HERE IN RECORD TIME

The speed of the modern day was typically illustrated by a recent incident at Emory university. Virgil Eady, director of the Emory orchestra, which will accompany the Emory Glee club on its European tour this summer, in applying for his passport sent his letter by air mail. This was on Wednesday morning.

Washington officials seemed to consider it a test case and eliminating the usual delay sent him his passport by a return plane, which arrived Saturday. The entire time consumed was less than 72 hours.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEADS PREPARE FOR HEARING

Rival claimants for presidency of the Atlanta Woman's club Thursday were preparing written testimony for submission at the superior court hearing, set for 9 o'clock Monday before Judge John D. Humphries.

By virtue of a court injunction Mrs. Charles Goodman holds temporary sway over the club, while Mrs. John R. Hornady, opposing the claimant, has retired from active administration of its affairs pending the hearing.

The Hornady group will charge that a small body of women attempted to "railroad" Mrs. Goodman into office, arbitrarily ignoring law and order.

Meanwhile the other side maintains silence, refusing to comment on the situation which advanced two presidential aspirants.

James A. Branch, of Branch & Howard, will represent the Hornady side at the hearing, while Attorneys Hamilton Douglas, Jr., Judge Shepard Bryant and William A. Fuller will appear for Mrs. Goodman.

Dean Floyd Field To Speak Tonight At Frat Banquet

Dean Floyd Field, Theta Chi, of Georgia Tech, will give the principal address at the interfraternity dinner to be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Atlanta Athletic club. Dean Field will give a review of the work of the southern interfraternity conference for the last year. This conference has been in existence for slightly more than a year now and is composed of alumni of more than a score of national fraternities. It has as its purpose the study of fraternity conditions in the schools of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and North Carolina.

All college fraternity men of the city are invited to the dinner and to make reservations through the heads of the interfraternity groups at Emory or Tech. It is expected that the groups from various fraternities will get together at the dinner and a roll call of all national fraternities will be taken to ascertain the extent of the representation at the gathering.

In addition to Dean Field, Oscar Palmour, past regent of Sigma Nu, and Bishop H. J. Mikell, national officer of Kappa Alpha and chairman of the southeastern conference, also will speak.

U. S. CONCENTRATES FARM WORK HERE

Five separate divisions of the United States department of agriculture will, after July 1, maintain their Atlanta offices in the same building, the Atlanta Commercial Exchange building, at 41 Exchange place. This was effected Thursday when F. J. Hughes, of Washington, business manager for the bureau of agricultural economics, spent Thursday in the city and arranged for the concentration of the local work of the department in this manner.

The agreement was made in line with the bureau's program, Mr. Hughes stated, of economy and more efficient service.

The five divisions which will be housed, locally, in the Commercial Exchange building, are the division of cotton marketing, George A. Dunagin, district manager; crop and live stock estimates, V. C. Childs, in charge; fruits and vegetables, J. H. Hoover, in charge; hay, feed and seed division, Allen D. Harlan, in charge, and bonded warehouses, F. G. Crout, in charge.

Mr. Hughes expressed deep appreciation, before leaving the city Thursday afternoon, of the cooperation extended by Atlanta realtors to himself, Mr. Dunagin and other district managers, in effecting this concentration of the department's activities.

P. Hope Tigner, manager of the Commercial Exchange building, announced the leases Thursday and stated that business men who make use of the facilities offered by the various activities of the department will appreciate the location of the various offices in one building, situated in the financial and business center of the city, and convenient to the commercial interest of the territory, much of which centers in the membership of the Atlanta Commercial Exchange.

Capt. Goulding, Noted Southern Leader, a Visitor

BY HELEN AND OLIVE PARISH.
Captain Benjamin L. Goulding, the oldest living commander of the oldest Confederate camp, is visiting Atlanta to attend the centennial exercises at Columbia Theological seminary. Mr. Goulding is the grandson of the Rev. Thomas Goulding, the first native-born Presbyterian preacher in Georgia, who originally founded the seminary in Lexington, Ga.

Captain Goulding's uncle, the Rev. Thomas R. Goulding, was the author of "The Young Marooners" and invented the first sewing machine used in Georgia. According to "Lucian Knight's" "History of Georgia," "The Young Marooners" is the only child's book that can be classed with "Robinson Crusoe" and the Swiss Family Robinson. The book has been printed in six languages and has won over five sets of American plates, besides enjoying a large circulation in England. The first Confederate and eighth United States edition is in Captain Goulding's possession.

Among his other trophies Captain Goulding boasts a razor, made for Jefferson Davis in England during the civil war, which he shaves with once each year, on the birthday of the famous Confederate. He carries a cane made in the Himalayas 143 years ago. He is the owner of the Arabic diary of a negro slave, which is the basis of Joel Chandler Harris' "The Story of Aaron."

Now in his eighty-fourth year, the captain affirms that he has passed through all the experiences of life except marriage. It is his sole regret.

He was a pioneer in establishing the United States weather service and originated the Chattanooga flood warning service. He hopes always to be a pioneer and his ambition is never to grow old.

ATLANTA HOTEL
MAIL COLLECTION
HOURS CHANGED
Time of mail collection in Atlanta hotels has been revised so that letters for the New York-Atlanta-New Orleans air mail line are gathered in plenty of time to make the 7 o'clock plane every night for New York. Postmaster E. K. Large announced Thursday. Change in the hours of collection was made so that the traveling public in Atlanta's hotels may have every available opportunity to use the air mails, Mr. Large said.

Deadly Poisons Result of Liver Laziness

Constipation, Usual Cause of "Back-Wash" Which Poisons Entire System.

Not one in a hundred constipated men and women are free from "back-wash" which is the stagnant waste matter that accumulates and remains in the lower bowels two, three and four days at a time, constantly throwing deadly poisons into the blood stream. And this often happens even if there is a bowel movement each day.

To rid yourself of this menace, you must put your liver back to work, creating new bile which any physician will tell you is absolutely necessary to thoroughly cleanse the bowels and make them act regularly and keep them in a healthy condition.

The greatest aid known to stimulate the liver into active service is Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills, known the world over for their satisfying results. And only 25c a box at any good drugstore. Remember the name—Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills for Liver Laziness.—(adv.)

Mate in Asylum, Georgia Woman Drowns Herself

Comer, Ga., May 24.—(Special.)—The young woman of this place, a young woman of this place, who was covered from the swollen waters of the Broad river near here late Thursday, was found dead in the river. Mrs. Clark was missing from the home of her father yesterday shortly after noon. She was seen following her tracks in the mud from the home to the bank of the river, about a mile away. She had walked through a driving rain to the river. Dependence on the illness of her husband was believed to have been the motive for the act. She is survived by two small children. A friend declared that she had told her she did not know what she would do with herself and the children since her husband's condition had necessitated his removal to an asylum.

BOY, 8, OVERCOME BY GASOLINE FUMES RECOVERS AT GRADY

When James Rosser, Jr., 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Rosser, of 32 Sims street, Haywards, disappeared from the front lawn of his home, where he had been playing late Thursday afternoon, and failed to reappear for some minutes his mother went to search for him. Going around the house to the driveway where Mr. Rosser's car was parked, the mother found the boy lying unconscious across the gas tank of the car with his nose directly over the uncovered opening. Carrying the boy into the house, she called a private physician who applied artificial respiration for 40 minutes, only partially succeeding in restoring the boy to consciousness. The child then was taken to Grady hospital where he regained consciousness and was returned to his home. Doctors were at a loss to define the exact nature of the gas which overcame the boy and stated that the case was a very unusual one, pointing out that while cases of asphyxiation near cars in which the motors are running are not uncommon it is seldom that anyone is overcome by the fumes of gasoline alone.

FAILURE TO STOP AFTER HITTING AUTO COSTS VISITOR $100

Running into a city automobile driven by Detective J. J. Chester and P. H. Jones cost E. L. Chambers, of Monroe, Ga., $100 and costs when Acting Judge Harry York Thursday found Chambers guilty of drunk and reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

The mishap occurred Wednesday at the intersection of Pryor and Fulton streets. After striking and slightly damaging the police car, Chambers neglected to stop and led the officers a chase which extended for two miles and out of many city streets, the trail ending at Forsyth and Whitehall streets, where the detectives overhauled Chambers' car.

Method of Cleaning Henry Grady Statue Cause of Complaint

Acting Mayor Claude Ashley recently has received a number of complaints on the manner in which the Henry Grady statue in front of the city hall, is being cleaned.

GAS AND KEROSENE COLLECTIONS SHOW DECLINE IN APRIL

April collections from the state tax on gasoline and kerosene declined nearly $50,000, or slightly more than 7 per cent, as compared with figures for the month of March. Comptroller General William A. Wright announced Thursday.

Inclement weather during April, retarding the use of automobiles and hence the consumption of gasoline, together with a smaller consumption of kerosene, was assigned as the reason for the decline.

Collections for April were announced to be $635,388.59, comprising $617,012.70 from the 4-cent per gallon tax on gasoline and $18,375.89 from the 3-cent levy on kerosene. During March the tax was said to have netted the state $684,633.98, of which $664,112.07 came from gasoline and $20,521.91 from kerosene.

Park Facilities Free to Public When Pools Open

Atlanta will open its municipal swimming pools on Saturday, June 2, and by way of celebration of the event Councilman John A. White, chairman of the city council's committee on parks, has announced that all park facilities may be enjoyed on that day free of charge. Anyone on that day who wishes to enjoy the pools, the tennis courts, the golf course, or use any of the equipment provided in the parks for various sports may do so without the payment of the usual fees.

When questioned concerning what would be expected of bathers in the matter of suits, Councilman White said, "Decency is to be the only rule," and added that any suit which complied with that rule will be acceptable to authorities.

WEATHER BUREAU BRANCH IS SOUGHT AT CANDLER FIELD

Alderman W. B. Hartsfield, chairman of the aviation committee of the city council, announced Thursday that at the next meeting of the finance committee of the council he would ask for an appropriation of a minimum of $3,000 for erection of a weather bureau and postoffice at Candler field for the benefit of the air mail pilots and the workers at the field. It is understood that if the city will build quarters the federal government will furnish the personnel for operation of the weather bureau and postoffice.

Mr. Hartsfield maintained that it is imperative that these facilities be added to the field equipment from the standpoint of safety for the fliers and for their convenience also. He added that since the government has done to a considerable expense in furnishing air mail service for Atlanta the city should provide every advantage necessary to the service.

The proposed plans call for erection of one building, at a cost of not less than $3,000, to house the weather bureau and the postoffice.

Willis Accepts Presidency Of Mountain Memorial Body

G. F. Willis Thursday accepted the presidency of the Stone Mountain Memorial association, having been elected to this post, succeeding Hollins N. Randolph, retired, a week ago by the board of directors. At that time he stated that he would be unable to accept owing to the press of his personal interests, but was prevailed upon to consider the matter for a week. Thursday at the urgent insistence of a committee of leaders from all local agencies of public interest, backed by a personal request from Governor L. G. Hardman, Mr. Willis accepted the place.

"Because of the press of personal business and new personal interests it had been my thought to decline the honor," Mr. Willis told the group of citizens who waited upon him in his office Thursday morning. "But the call was so unmistakable, it came from quarters which I so honor and revere, and it was so insistent, that I cannot refuse. It shall be my great privilege to give to the task every ounce of my energy."

Mr. Willis informed the committee, however, that he wished it clearly understood that his acceptance is for the time being only. "If I find later on that the work is too burdensome I may ask the association to provide me a successor," he stipulated.

Hardman Urges Acceptance. Governor Hardman called Mr. Willis by telephone on Thursday morning and urged him to accept the responsibility of the presidency. "At the same time, appeals were being made in his office by Mayor Pro Tem, Claude Ashley, President Milton Dargatzis, Jr., John C. Davis, Jr., of the Georgia Commercial Association; B. S. Barker, executive vice president of the chamber; R. Graham West, city commissioner; Reuben E. Arnold, chairman of the special committee from the association; Mrs. William A. Wright, Robert F. Madox, E. Z. Rivers, John Ashley Jones and others.

"We ask you to accept this great public service, for the community, for the state, for the south and for the nation," said Mr. Arnold. "The work at Stone Mountain faces a crisis. You can take the helm and carry it on. If you decline to take it, but someone else will likely not go on, but go to pieces."

Atlanta has no other single asset comparable in value to the monument. Mr. Barker asserted, speaking for the chamber of commerce. He added that it would be a supreme calamity if the work were to stop and that Mr. Willis was the one man that all parties concurred wished to see at the head of the undertaking.

Mr. Willis has been associated with the work of the monument association almost since the inception of the work of carrying the monument to the mountain started. He was one of the first contributors. It was stated at the officers' association on Thursday, having given several thousand dollars to the cause.

Landed Many Thousands. In addition, it was stated, he has loaned, either by cash or by personal endorsement, many thousands to the work, at times when the need for funds to keep the work progressing

Salvation Army Dog May Keep Watch in Death

Queens, Salvation Army watchdog killed Wednesday by a hit-and-run driver, may stand perpetual guard in the army's industrial home for dogs.

Staff Captain W. H. Range, commander of the department, was arranging Thursday to have the dog buried in the industrial home for dogs, with an engraved plate to tell the "dove" who died.

Queens was of uncertain breed and whinnied into the industrial home nearly two years ago, bedraggled by the rain of just such a night as Wednesday, the day she met her death. Lamented of the home found a fellow feeling for a four-footed underdog and kept her there as watchdog until the entire animal to be de-frayed the cost of mounting her body, with an engraved plate to tell the "dove" who died.

Last winter she bore her first litter of puppies which were given to poor families of the city as the capital prizes at the Salvation Army's Christmas tree. Two weeks ago she bore a second litter of puppies and two days later the last which guarded headquarters for mice died in hearing a litter of kittens. Queens promptly adopted the two kittens, which survived, and nursing them with her own puppies.

The strangely assorted litter was kept in the basement of the Salvation Army home at 27 Baker street. Two nights ago, with her puppies' eyes all opened, Queens resumed her work as watchdog for the army and it was on her way to "work" that she was killed.

Veteran Hardware Merchant Deplores Coolidge's Veto

Hamp Williams Thinks Bill Would Aid Farmers

Hamp Williams, prominent hardware dealer of Hot Springs National Park, Ark., here for the convention of the Southeastern Retail Hardware and Implement Dealers' association, of which he is a former president, Thursday afternoon expressed his disappointment at the president's second veto of the McNary-Haugen bill and voiced the opinion that enactment of the act as it now reads would bring not a little benefit to the farmers of the south.

Mr. Williams explained his interest in the problem through the fact that he believes that both the farmers and the small retailers of the country are today faced by somewhat the same difficulties in that both classes must make radical changes in their methods if they are to survive the present pressure of competition. The southern farmers, he said, must turn from the one-crop system, must cooperate among themselves, diversify their production and supply their home markets in such a manner as to meet the competition of foreign farm produce and that from remote sections of the country. The small retailers, he contended, must meet the ever-increasing pressure of the mail-order houses and the chain-store systems by turning to more modern methods of displaying their goods, by the mail-order houses and the chain-store systems by turning to more modern methods of displaying their goods, by the mail-order houses and the chain-store systems by turning to more modern methods of displaying their goods.

Mr. Williams, who is a native Arkansan, has lived in the south all his life and has been in the hardware business in Hot Springs for 22 years. He said that in his entire career as a business man he had seen few acts of congress which auger the good for the south as a whole as does the recently passed flood prevention bill, and expressed the belief that the wise expenditure of the $325,000,000 provided by the act would be of almost immeasurable value, not only to states and cities immediately adjacent to the Mississippi, but to other southern states and cities as well.

Though Mr. Williams displayed warm interest in national problems and keen insight into them, he waxed exceedingly enthusiastic when he launched on a discussion on Herbert Hoover as a man and as an executive. The veteran merchant has known the possible republican candidate through a long series of personal and official contacts with him—around the conference table when he was federal food administrator for Arkansas under Hoover; in the home of the secretary of commerce as his guest and as host to Mr. Hoover, during his visits to Arkansas. Mr. Williams spoke enthusiastically and earnestly of Hoover as a business man, as a friend and as an executive. He said that during a critical period of the country's history and handled the situation with a coolness and capability. Mr. Williams stated that although he had been a democrat in his voting for 45 years he would not hesitate to vote for Herbert Hoover if he is named this summer as the republican presidential nominee. "Because," Mr. Williams concluded, "I earnestly believe him to be the most capable man among all the prospective candidates of both parties and I have seen him at work as a man of affairs and also as a business man he has seen few acts of congress which auger the good for the south as a whole as does the recently passed flood prevention bill, and expressed the belief that the wise expenditure of the $325,000,000 provided by the act would be of almost immeasurable value, not only to states and cities immediately adjacent to the Mississippi, but to other southern states and cities as well."

LESLIE IS NOMINATED FOR INDIANA GOVERNOR

Indianapolis, Ind., May 24.—(AP)—Harry G. Leslie, of West Lafayette, was nominated for governor of Indiana on the republican ticket in the biennial state convention here today on the seventh ballot.

Leslie rode to victory when Frederick E. Schorheimer threw his strength to the Tippecanoe county man when it became apparent that his own candidacy was hopeless. Frederick Landis, who had wrestled the lead from Schorheimer on the fifth ballot, moved to make the nomination unanimous at the conclusion of the seventh ballot.

Neither of Indiana's United States senators—James E. Watson and Arthur R. Robinson—were included in the list of seven delegates-at-large selected by the state republican convention to attend the national convention at Kansas City. The two senators had agreed to forego places on the delegation when opponents of Governor Ed Jackson insisted that the state executive be left off.

The delegates-at-large selected were E. F. Kitzelman, Muncie; Henry Lane Wilson, Indianapolis; E. W. Bowler, Delphi; Joseph Hunsell, Fort Wayne; David Scott, Linton; Congressman Will R. Wood, LaFayette, and Henry W. Marshall, LaFayette.

Governor Jackson, however, will go to the convention as a delegate from the seventh district of the state-wide primary.

The platform endorsed President Coolidge and the national administration and endorsed the presidential candidacy of Senator Watson.

Two Main Trunk Highways To Be Completed by 1929

Two main trunk highways traversing populous sections of Georgia will be completed before the first of next year, when contracts to be let by the state highway department May 30 are carried out, it was announced Thursday by John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway board. One section of the hard surfaced highway will extend from Chattanooga, Tenn., to the Georgia-Florida line, running by way of Atlanta and Macon. Another stretch will run from Atlanta to the Georgia-North Carolina line near Murphy, N. C., on the Atlanta-Asheville highway. It was announced that the entire route from Macon to Savannah will be either completed in 1928 or will be under construction as a graded highway ready for paving.

Announcement was made that on May 30 the board would let contracts for highway projects involving expenditures of approximately $2,000,000 in 17 counties, as follows: Cobb, Bartow, Gordon, Whitfield, Catoosa, Turner, Emanuel, Thomas, Meriwether, Talbot, Jackson, Early, Seminole, Camden, Muscogee, Crisp and Butts.

Within 1928, Mr. Holder said, in commenting on the projects, the entire Macon-to-Savannah link of the so-called "Coast-to-Capital" route connecting Atlanta and Savannah will be either completed or under construction as a graded highway ready for paving. The hard-surfacing is planned to begin next year and to be completed within the year 1930, the chairman said.

Included in the contracts to be let May 30, it was explained, is a project for paving the highway from Marietta to the Catoosa county line near Ringgold, and other construction under way or soon to begin in the border county will give the state this year a hard-surfaced route from Atlanta to the Tennessee line in the direction of Chattanooga.

Between Atlanta and the Florida line, on the route through Macon, Vienna and Valdosta, all is paved except for a stretch in Houston county now almost completed with concrete and other sections in Crisp and Turner counties now under construction or soon to be let to contract.

The route toward Asheville is now completely paved, said Mr. Holder, except for links soon to be completed in Gwinnett, Habersham and Rabun counties and a stretch to be built in Hall county with county funds.

RETAIL HARDWARE MEN END MEETING

With the south today recognized as the coming section of the United States, the hardware men of this section are advantageously situated and should be able to reflect this optimism into their business relations according to the opinion voiced Thursday by O. K. Jones, of Sweetwater, Tenn., at the closing session of the Southeastern Retail Hardware and Implement association's annual convention. The convention was regarded by officials as one of the most constructive ever held.

Mr. Jones stated that the March report sent out from national reports from 600 hardware men showing that every state in the south registered gains in sales and that every eastern and mid-western state showed a loss. "I am sure that a good part of this gain comes about because of better arrangement and display," stated Mr. Jones, as he recounted numerous ways in which the hardware men of the south had awakened in recent years to the new influences in buying and of their having turned to better display and arrangement of stocks to Problems in Distribution.

The principal address at the morning session was "Problems in Distribution," by Saunders Norvell, president of Remington Arms company, New York, who presented a review of distribution problems during the past quarter of a century and how they had affected the status of the retailer, the jobber and manufacturer of the present time.

W. C. Waddell, hardware dealer of Greenville, Tenn., spoke on "Better Salesmanship," which, he declared, was too scarce in the retail field. Money is the one big thing in business today, he declared, expressing the opinion that personality as applied to business in the earlier days exists today to a much lesser degree than formerly.

MELLON OPPOSES INCOME PUBLICITY IN TAX CUT BILL

Washington, May 24.—(P)—Secretary Mellon said today that the treasury department was strongly opposed to the income tax publicity provision in the pending tax reduction bill. He believed that this publicity will yet be stricken out. The greatest objection to the publicity section, he said, was that it would expose private business affairs to the scrutiny of competitors and curiosity seekers. "No civilized country publishes the private affairs of its citizens and, no good can come of such publicity," he added.

Fair Weather To Stay Here For Few Days

Fair weather will continue to delight Atlantans today, according to C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist. Thursday's fine, clear weather will be repeated today, and was the forerunner of several days of Temperatures today will be slightly warmer, ranging from 60 to 80 degrees, the weather man said. The southern storm moved slowly eastward to the vicinity of Hatteras Thursday, and the weather is quite clear over the entire central valley and southward, giving promise of several fair days here, Mr. von Herrmann said.

ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK

Three Generations

By WARWICK DEEPING

SYNOPSIS.
Old John Fybus, a former dock bookkeeper in London and later in Whitebourn, is serving as a porter in an inn at Castle Caven when his son, Conrad, sees him there. He's been estranged from both his sons since the beginning of the war. He has lost all track of him, Conrad hastens to tell his brother, Probyn, that he has seen his father. Probyn's son, Lance Fybus, had believed his grandfather dead, but he looks him up at the inn. Probyn's friend, Mr. Gaden, tells the parents of the meeting. When Lance finishes at Cambridge he takes a room in London and after gaining his father's reluctant consent and a small allowance he devotes himself to his studies. He meets a girl who is attracted to Oliver Gadden, a man-kin.

INSTALLMENT XXXV.
LANCE'S WIDOW.

Lance was silent for quite a long while, and in the silence of the beech woods old Fryus experienced a personal breathlessness. It may be easier to quarrel with a young man's virility than to quarrel with his work. The Venerable had fired a shot at the craft-man's self-esteem. He was conscious of a moody and disquieted face drifting beside him in the greenish light under the great trees. Youth can be so sympathetic to itself, yet so unresponsive to the needs of others. The cleaning out chicken houses, while little tubes of color remained untouched.

"You'll have to try and forgive me, my son."

"Grandpater!"

There was a swift change. Lance's right hand got hold of the Venerable's left arm. His mouth winced.

"You—of course—, I'm a nub."

Old Pybus' right hand came across and pressed his grandson's wrist.

"No—that's great of you, my dear. No humbug. no humbug."

Returning by the same way, after going as far as King's Standing, they sat down on a dry bank under the Woolshot park fence.

The Venerable had his eyes and his thoughts on Mary Merris. He saw her in her tawny-colored jumper and rust-colored skirt moving in and about the little brown house, and he had a feeling that she was affected by a blurred sky, and wet windows, and English sludge, and that if she accepted those gray days and their sadness she accepted them because life was sad. They blended. The Venerable accepted them because age sits down in its chair to confront the inevitable. But youth—

Old Pybus pulled at his old silver watch.

"Time to trudge."

As they passed along the "Marion's" hedge they heard a man's voice, plaintive and aggrieved.

"Mary—I've lost my pipe."

The Venerable's bushy eyebrows twitched expressively.

"The pain of losing is the joy of finding."

Stair Lane. "That practical young woman ought to tie it around his neck!"

Lance walked from Paddington station, carrying his brown leather suitcase, gliding of London because he himself was London, and especially so on this summer evening when even the smoky fog of Peabody Crescent was sensuously sufficient. He had a window looking down upon this world of unplashed lights and artificial silk, and in all the hurry and vast impatience, the huge, anonymous, greedily, thundering streets. As an artist he would not have it altered.

Moreover, he had a window overlooking the show, he also looked out at a particular window, for at half-past six on a Monday evening beauty should have ceased to pander to the east.

The lower half of her window was up. He had said to her before going to bed, "See you on Monday. Make my evening." He let himself into No. 17, and met Mrs. Carver.

"Evening, Mrs. Carver. Anybody called?"

She blinked at him. The china jingled on the tray. She was never any good at her duties.

Mrs. Doak Goes to Semi-Finals of Southern Golf Tournery

Miss Mayer Is Eliminated In Hard Match

Mrs. Doak Only Atlanta Entry Left in Championship Flight at Birmingham.

BY WHITNER CARY.
Constitution Staff Correspondent.
Birmingham, May 24.—The semi-final brackets of the 1928 southern women's golf championship, these sacred confines which two days ago were the goal of Dixie's greatest feminine golfing stars, tonight is the camping ground for Mrs. Dalton Raymond, present title holder; Miss Marion Turpie, a former champion; Mrs. Melvin Jones, a former western champion, and last but by no means least, Mrs. W. D. Doak, last surviving member of Atlanta's gallant little band of noble crusaders, whose golf during this tournament gives her every right to all the honor and glory of a seat in the charmed quarter where only potential champions have a right to dwell. Mrs. Raymond gained her place in the sacred circle and prevented premature removal of her crown by eliminating Mrs. Carl Hess, of Birmingham, in a hard-fought match that ended 3-1; Mrs. Jones continued her victorious march at the expense of Mrs. Carl Lieblich, of Birmingham, whom she defeated 5-4; Miss Turpie cut loose a super blistering brand of golf to annihilate Miss Rosalie Mayer.

M. C. Bishop Scores Hole-in-One Over Jas. L. Key Course

The populous Dodo club gained another Atlanta member Thursday when M. C. Bishop, enterprising young member of the city golfed holes cannon his tee shot on number three hole at the James L. Key municipal course.

Using an iron on the 175-yard hole, Bishop drove the green and watched his ball trickle into the can. Playing with him at the time was J. H. Christian. Mr. Bishop did not exactly miss any of his shots as will be evidenced by the 74 he turned in for the round.

7-5, and Mrs. Doak kept the banner of the Gate City at the masthead by shattering the championship hopes of that former southern title holder, Mrs. John Armstrong, of Jackson, Miss., in a sparkling match that found the Atlanta entry one up at the finish.

Awful Dawn.
So tonight as the dead and wounded are being quietly removed from the scene of carnage, Birmingham and the golfers are looking down at a tomorrow that may furnish greater thrills than has any tournament in recent years. A tomorrow that will see Mrs. Raymond's pathway to the finals beset by the calm, cool and steady brand of golf played by Mrs. Melvin Jones; a tomorrow that will see Miss Marion Turpie, the merciful, brilliant Miss Turpie, facing Mrs. Doak and a brand of golf that has varied its owner over two rough matches.

FT. MAC, GUARD POLO SQUADS TO TRY AGAIN

Weather permitting, the galloping game of polo will be an event of Sunday afternoon when the Horse Guards meet the McPherson squad in an eight-chukker game at 3:30 o'clock at Fort McPherson. Rain and yet more rain has postponed the conflict between the two teams, but instead of dampening their enthusiasm the delay has only served to bring both teams on their toes and Sunday's game will provide plenty of thrills for the spectators.

The first and only game so far for this season between the Guards and the Fort Mac quartet was a bitterly fought contest resulting in a well earned victory for the Guardsmen, the final score being 8 to 6.

The bit of raggedness in the play which cropped up at times was due to the fact that it was the first game of the year and both players and ponies needed experience. Since then, however, both teams have met the Fort Benning squads in several days of tournament play and although the victories fell to the Benning horsemen the teams showed a good brand of polo, and will profit by that experience to smooth out the rough spots.

A small charge, for maintaining the game is made for those desiring to park cars on the side lines where the game can be observed from automobiles, and for spectators not in cars.

The SPORTLIGHT

ON THE OTHER SIDE.
Let those who will, and the din.
Sing loudly of "The Will to Win."

Or let them chant along the beat
Of "Bulldog jaw" and "Hustling feet."

Of "grim-eyed courage in a pinch,"
Or "heart's of oak that never flinch."

These things have merit, one and all,
But why should life be one long brawl?

I'd rather let the pennons dip,
And sing of fun and comradeship;

Of pleasant recreation where
There is no will to do and dare;

Where rivals meet, and say, "O, well,
We'll do our best, but wotchee!"

Why concentrate up to the skull
Where life has no such word as "dull?"

Why not slow down the dizzy skit
And amble gently for a bit?

After waiting fourteen years no one could blame Connie Mack for postponing the Yankee waterbuck.

Both Tunney and Heeny are confident the other crew isn't going to score a knockout, and both Tunney and Heeny appear to be about 90-5-4 per cent correct in their early estimates.

These Chicago Cubs are violating all the Archimedeal laws by giving up

Cream of College Track Teams Entered in I. C. 4-A at Cambridge.

Cambridge, Mass., May 24.—(P)—The cream of the nation's college track athletes, about 500 strong, assembled hereabouts tonight to compete in the fifty-second annual I. C. A. A. A. championship meet at Harvard stadium tomorrow and Saturday. Among the athletes, who represent 32 colleges and almost every district in the United States, were eight of the 1927 champions who returned to defend their titles in nine events. Trial heats in 15 of the 15 events will be held tomorrow afternoon and the finals will be staged on Saturday.

Though the meet probably will be dominated by the remarkable teams from Stanford and Southern California, indications were that several eastern athletes would be among the meet's high scorers.

The Stanford team appears unbeatable and Southern California has the best claim for second place. "Dink" Templeton, Stanford coach, has predicted that his team will score 25 points, and it is expected to do much better. Dean Cromwell, of Southern California, claimed 20 points for his Trojan athletes, among whom are Charlie Borah, intercollegiate sprint champion, and Lee Baras, one of the best pole vaulters in the world.

Eastern Chances. Harvard and Yale have a bare chance of beating the Trojans out for second place but the experts have given these teams, the best in the east. Only little encouragement. The best that any of the eastern teams can hope for is 18 points and Cromwell's athletes should not have any great difficulty piling up a total of 20.

1,065 Enter Open To Set New Mark

New York, May 24.—(United News.)—Entries for the sectional qualifying round of the United States open golf championship closed Wednesday night with a record entry list of 1,065. H. H. Ramsay, chairman of the championship committee of the United States Golf association, announced today.

This year's entry list eclipses by 167 the number entered last year. The pairings will be announced at a later date, Chairman Ramsay said.

BUNION DERBY DRAWS CLOSER TO NEW YORK

Suffern, N. Y., May 24.—(United News.)—There was no sign of the reported mutiny among the remaining contestants in C. C. Pyle's transcontinental marathon tonight as they pulled into Suffern, the next to last control before reaching New York City.

Upon the assurance of Promoter Pyle that he had the $40,500 with which to pay off the 10 winners, all rumors of the derby going "on the rocks" have been quieted.

Passaic, N. J., will be Friday's goal, the last before the weary runners pull into Madison Square Garden Saturday to finish the race they started at Los Angeles, March 4.

Seth Gonzales, Denver, Mexican, won today's lap of 38 miles, finishing in 4 hours, 58 minutes, 27.4 seconds. He is fifteenth in the elapsed standing.

Title at Stake In Hooper Show

The colored featherweight championship of Dixie will be at stake Monday night at the Colored Elks' rest, Edgewood avenue and Fort street, when Richard Moore, flashy young pillow artist, will attempt to dethrone "Cowboy Kid," the present titleholder. Both the "Cowboy" and Moore have put in some heavy training for the match and have slacked up a bit for the ten-round argument which gives promise of being one of the fastest scuffles staged in a local ring for some time.

Wrestling on Tap At Power Club

G. W. Tucker, athletic director of the Athletic and Social club of the Georgia Power company, has arranged an amateur all-star wrestling card at the club, 36 Piedmont avenue, Friday night that gives promise of being a very interesting affair.

RADIO-ING

The Air Waves.

BY THE DIAL TWIST.

Hungarian gypsy songs will feature the Palmolive hour over WSB and other Red network stations at 8 o'clock tonight. The blending of voices and appropriate instruments in these old folk songs of an ancient and roving people will strike a new chord to those of us who do not know these pattern melodies.

Other numbers on the hour will be "Ups and Downs" by the guitar trio and the Revelers, a tenor, "Ah, Moon of My Delight," "Home to Our Mountains" from "Il Trovatore" and a specialty of orchestra fireworks.

The Wrigley Spearman will pass in review again tonight over WSB and Blue chain stations, opening their parade at 7 o'clock. Among the musical comedies to supply numbers for the broadcast will be "Maytime" and the "Chocolate Soldier" and a male quartet will sing "Carry One," "Sweet Sue" and "Wobbling Walk." "When My Ships Come Sailing Home" will be a tenor solo.

La Palma will hold forth tonight over the Columbia system, with KMOX or WAUI or KGHP as good stations to tune in on if atmospheres do not say otherwise. La Palma will introduce a stage headliner, as is her wont on Friday nights. Supporting the guest artist will be a symphony orchestra of 22 pieces, as well as vocal and instrumental soloists. Although the Friday night "smokers" are masculine affairs, La Palma generally makes them enjoyable for both sides of the family. The hour starts at 8 o'clock.

Bob and Mary, True Story hour folks over the Columbia system every Friday night, will be heard from Colorado mining camps tonight when 7 o'clock rolls around. Romance is not often associated with a mining camp, but Bob and Mary have found it there. This they will tell and in addition give a musical program.

LIFE'S LITTLE TRAGEDIES

FACES were strained. The formal dinner party was like a funeral. The hostess fought bravely to look bright, while her husband's face glowered with unuttered words.

Every ankle underneath the table strung and twitched with mosquitoes' bites. The dinner was not only a tough break—it was something to live down!

DOUBLEDAYS SECURE DIVORCE IN FRANCE

Paris, May 24.—(AP)—After following an unusual procedure in an effort to bring about a reconciliation, the presiding judge of the Paris divorce court today pronounced a decree in favor of Mrs. Felix Doubleday, of New York.

The judge summoned the husband and wife before him and invited them to make up their differences.

Mrs. Doubleday declared that she didn't want to live with her wife any more because she interfered with his business. The judge finally decided that abandonment had been proven after Mrs. Mumm Robinson, witness for the plaintiff, had testified that Mrs. Doubleday's life was a martyrdom. The decree was then issued.
